Editorial Comments

Introduction

The Editorial Board of Savannah Veterinary Journal is very pleased to announce the birth of the journal with the production of this first edition. The journal which will be published twice in a year accepts articles in the area of veterinary and comparative medicine, animal production and health, and is open to scientists in all aspects of biomedical sciences. The articles submitted would be subjected to a thorough peer review in order to enhance and sustain the standard of the journal not only in terms of quality but also in final output.

In order to kick start the production of this first edition, the board appreciates the financial contribution of academic staff of the Faculty of Veterinary Medicine, University of Ilorin, Ilorin. The board appreciates our editors and reviewers both at home and abroad for the prompt and thorough review of articles in this edition. The submission and review process is online. Authors should strictly follow our guide. We seek for the cooperation of all to enable the journal meets its hope, aspirations and desired standard.

Thank you.

Professor Raji Mashood

Editor-in-Chief